An animated vintage Moroccan carpet from the Boujad region featuring distorted lozenges floating on a vibrant fire red and pink field. The weaver's use of form and color creates a strong positive / negative interplay resulting in an optical effect. The motifs are filled with bright green and yellow pixels, lending a sense of noise and movement. Clusters of thoughtfully placed checker motifs break apart and regroup, further accentuating the playful nature of this piece. Deceivingly simple, yet creatively executed with all wool pile on a cotton warp.
