fringe length.	7"
condition.	Very Good

A great antique example of a Moroccan Ait Seghrouchen carpet with wool dyed from natural sources including pomegranate, indigo and carob root. The hues have faded over the past 70-80 years, providing a wonderful aged patina and depth. A simplified Berber message is spoken, but an oriental influence from the east is also evident. There are a few areas of restoration and some fringe loss, consistent for a carpet of this age. 100% wool.
