This vintage Moroccan Beni Ouarain carpet has a very classic motif, with its own idiosyncrasies. A clear division line near the center separates a portion executed in a more refined manner from the other half. The balance of the carpet shows irregularity, indicating a change in life events of the weaver, or more probably a different weaver who started or finished the piece. Woven in ivory and dark brown undyed wool. Note: a few areas where knots were not inserted by the weaver, or were left looped into the warp, which does not detract from the overall condition of the carpet. 100% wool.
